

Rewilding Hogan Lovells

As part of our commitment to Responsible Business Hogan Lovells supports the pioneering work of Snowchange Cooperative to rewild a former peatland in Eastern Finland.

Our rewilding initiative is a major success story:

In only a few years, biodiversity has grown dramatically: from only two bird species observed when the work began in 2013, to about 198 bird species observed in 2020.

The site has shifted from a toxic, methane-emitting ground to a much healthier wetland, that is able to serve as an important carbon sink.

Local inhabitants who were deprived of their livelihood due to diminishing fish stocks and polluted rivers can return to their traditional, nature-based activities.

The concept of rewilding has a proven track record of success and is now rapidly growing in Europe.

Listen to our rewilding podcast
www.hoganlovells.com/rewilding